Positive Behaviour Support
Effective Teaching and Learning
Practices
Phase One

Schools are invited to send teachers to this exciting, highly effective, evidence-based online professional learning opportunity in 2022.

The ETLP Masterclass Program Phase One supports classroom teachers to implement and embed evidence-based Positive Behaviour Support Effective Teaching and Learning Practices in their classroom.

This comprehensive and practical professional learning program supports teachers in developing mastery of evidence-based, high-leverage classroom management and instructional practices to improve student behaviour and engagement in learning.

- Eight modules of professional learning to build fluency in using practices with empirical support for reducing student behaviour errors and increasing active engagement with learning.
- A multi-component professional learning model which includes self-reflection and goal setting with multiple rounds of peer coaching and data based feedback.
- Participants work with a peer group to plan, implement, practise and get feedback on their use of the Effective Teaching and Learning Practices.

- Due to the uncertainty about Covid in 2022, all of our professional learning will now be delivered as online modules.
- Contact us to discuss how we can assist in developing a whole school system to support all staff to increase their use of these skills.
- Schools are invited to register pairs of teachers to participate in 8 2.5 hour training modules over two terms.
- Module content is further embedded through peer coaching and video feedback.
- Teachers who complete this program may be invited to complete Phase Two training to become consultants for their schools.

Who should attend this training?

- This training is for any teacher who wants to get better results for their students!
- Whether you are a graduate or have years of experience we guarantee you will learn new practices and gain valuable and useful insight into your teaching practices.

What can I expect to get from this training?

Teachers who participate in the program can expect to learn what effective practices are, and how to use them to reduce student behaviour errors and increase active engagement with learning.

School leaders can expect staff who attend to have measurably increased use of effective practices, embedded through peer observation and the use of data to make decisions about student learning.

Program Outcomes

- Know what classroom management and instructional practices are scientifically proven to make a difference to student outcomes.
- Be able to identify evidence-based, high-leverage classroom management and instructional practices when they are being used in the classroom. This will be via video coaching and direct observation of your peer teacher.
- Identify your own current rates of use of the effective practices, and set individual goals to get maximum change for your students.
- Become skilled and fluent in the use of evidence-based practices to improve student behaviour and engagement in learning. You will get regular data feedback and be able to track your progress using the tools we give you.
